Required Materials and Accessory
Textbook:

Calculator:
Bring a working finance calculator with you to each class. I recommend the Texas Instruments BAII Plus, and in class I will use TI BAII plus to demonstrate calculations. If you use a different type of calculator, it is your responsibility to know how to use the financial functions built in your calculator to get solutions.

WEBCT:
We will make extensive use of WEBCT (http://distance.mwsu.edu/webct.asp). Make sure that you have access to this course on WEBCT. From WEBCT you will see the syllabus, lecture slides, important announcement and a message board where you can communicate with other students, etc. You can also check your grades there. However, email contact with the instructor will NOT be through WEBCT. Instead, you should send your email to qian.li@mwsu.edu

If you have problem using WEBCT, please refer to the following website about your login information:

Learning Goals

A. General Learning Goals

• Problem solving and decision making abilities through the critical analysis, evaluation, and interpretation of business information. Each student will be required to analyze numerous cases during the semester. The analysis will include identifying the problem(s), suggesting possible alternatives to solve the problem, recommending the best alternative, and presenting an implementation plan.

• Demonstrate a competency in speaking and writing for common business scenarios. Each student as part of a team will present his/her analyzes of a case. Students will be graded on the quality of their oral speaking skills and the effectiveness of their case analysis.

• Know how to use team building and collaboration to achieve group objectives. Students will be formed into several teams to conduct case presentation and will be assigned a team grade for the quality of their analysis and presentation. No formal instruction on team work will be provided.

• Able to utilize available technology for common business applications. Students will use EXCEL template models in analyzing each case. No formal instruction will be provided on the use of spreadsheets.

B. Course Specific Learning Goals

After completing this course, students should be able to:

• understand key financial concepts such as:
  - Time Value of Money
  - Financial analysis and forecasting
  - Cost of capital analysis
  - Capital budgeting
  - Capital structure

• integrate these concepts from the prospective of value creation;

• apply these concepts to the analysis of intermediate level finance cases;

• contribute to a logical and appropriately focused presentation of the conclusions and recommendations flowing from the team’s analysis of assigned cases;

• participate productively in class discussions of assigned cases; and

• submit well written, grammatically correct, and clearly organized case summaries.

Grading

a. Exams: There will be two equally weighted exams. Each exam is weighted 25% into your overall grade. Format and content of the exam will be announced in class prior to the exam.

All exams are mandatory. There will be no make-up for the exams. It is the student’s responsibility to know when and where exams will be held. If you have an unavoidable conflict you must discuss this with me at least one week before the exam. If an emergency arises notify me immediately; if you cannot reach me directly leave a message. If you miss one exam, with a valid reason, the weight of the missed exam can be transferred into the other exam you can take (for example, if you miss the first exam, then your final exam will be weighted 50%). This option can only be exercised once, meaning that if you miss both exams, you lose the total 25%. An unexcused absence from the exam will be recorded as a zero.

b. Written Assignment: Students are required to complete one take-home written assignment. Questions in the assignment are based on the concepts and cases discussed in class. Details about the assignment will be posted on WEBCT. Students are expected to work on the assignment individually and independently. Collaboration on the assignment is not allowed and will result in a grade of zero.
c. Team Presentation: Students will form groups for case presentations. There will be 5 groups, and each group should have no less 2 and no more than 3 students. Case assignment will be determined at the second class. Each group then is responsible to present the case with both summary and in-depth analysis at specified class time. The group’s grade depends on by both quality of their written report and the quality of their presentation.

d. Participation: Student participation is very important for this course. Therefore participation credits are given to encourage students to engage in class discussion. Students with outstandingly good participation can earn up to 10 points of participation grades, while students that seldom participate or are disruptive to class may get zero participation grade. In addition to classroom participation, your participation on WEBCT will also be evaluated.

 Presence in group presentations is strictly required. Each absence in any group presentation will automatically result in 3 points deduction in the final grade. ***

e. Grading Schedules: In general, the following grading schedule will apply:

Attendance and Classroom Policy

- Arrive on time for each class meeting. Arriving late to class is disruptive to your fellow students. While arriving late for class is occasionally unavoidable, arriving late 6 or more times may result in the student being administratively dropped from class.
- Avoid excessive absences. Experience indicates that attending class regularly improves student performance. A student who is absent from class 4 or more times may be administratively dropped.
- Prepare for each class. Read the assigned chapter and cases, and come to class prepared to ask questions over issues you do not understand, answer questions from the instructor, and participate in class discussions when appropriate.
- Silence your cellphone/pager. Either turn it off, or switch it to silent mode. Phone rings or pager beeps disrupt the whole class and will NOT be tolerated.
- No private chat with your fellow students in class. If you want to speak, speak loudly so that the whole class can hear you.

Violating above rules will either cause you being dropped from this class or cause your final letter grade to be lowered according to the severity of the violation.
Academic Integrity
With regard to academic honesty, students are referred to the “Student Honor Creed” on p. 51 of Midwestern State University Graduate Catalog, Vol. LXXVIII, No. 2 (2010-2012). Academic dishonesty (cheating, collusion, and plagiarism) is taken seriously and will be investigated. The minimum penalty is an "F" in this course and referral to the Dean of Students for disciplinary action, which may result in expulsion from the University.

Americans with Disabilities Act
If a student has an established disability as defined in the Americans with Disabilities Act and would like to request accommodation, that student should please see me as soon as possible (i.e., within the first two weeks of the semester). Refer to my office hours and phone number shown on page 1. This class follows the guidelines suggested by the Center for Counseling and Disabilities Services for those students who qualify for disability services. See Midwestern State University Graduate Catalog 2010-2012, Vol. LXXVIII, No. 2, p. 53.
